The Story.

Some twelve years ago a tenant left a small box in my flat with 30 or more tubes of various acrylic paints. I tried to contact the person, only I never did. I put the box in my shed.

In may 2015 I was walking home when I found two small canvas's place by a bin. I took them home. Took the box from the shed and started to paint.

The stuff on the following pages are the first result. Strange as it is I love doing this never thought I would.

I like it because I never seem to be able to paint what I have in my head.

Enjoy
